Gaussian elimination is significantly faster than inverting the matrix and uses much less memory.